Not The First One

Miniskirts, bikinis, topless entertainment, the bold treatment of sex in novels and movies, the pill, the drive for liberalized abortion laws...

Whether these changes add up to a Sexual Revolution, with the capital letters its chroniclers have endowed it with, is another question.

It is a safe estimate that 90 per cent of the "revolution" must be discounted as taking place in the imagination, chiefly the male imagination.

We forget that it was during the staid and prudish 19th century that free love communities were established in the United States.

In 1872, in fact, Victoria Woodhull, a free love advocate, who certainly had the wrong first name, became the first woman to run for president.

It is a good question who was or is the more unhealthy sex-obsessed or sex-repressed—the Victorian with their denial that such a thing as sex existed on the one hand...

There ought to be a better choice than between a race of hypocrites and a generation of voyeurs. Each age is certain that its problems are unique and that it is witnessing the final decline of morality.

Whatever change there is seems to be a free acceptance of premarital relations between a man and woman—but only if accompanied by love and a strong sense of "commitment" to each other.

Despite our surface enlightenment, many marriage counselors agree that sexual incompatibility often stemming from ingrained guilt feelings about sex, is responsible for more marriage failures than money or any other factor.

For all the emancipation of women, the double standard still reigns. The advice-to-vice-love-columnists still emphatically teach that the girl who surrenders to the world, the flesh and the devil must pay for it.

Yet in a very real way society is changing. Americans are acknowledging and discussing this immensely powerful force in human life more honestly than they ever have.

But a revolution? It is only when people are comfortable enough with sex that they no longer feel they have to talk about it that we will know that the revolution has truly arrived.

How Was That, Sir?

Asked at a news conference if he sensed a rising pace in the Vietnam war from five or six months ago, President Johnson replied:

"I believe our objectives are the same... and our determination just as strong as it has ever been."

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE The Friday, May 12 editorial entitled "Admission Day Foes" was greeted with enthusiasm by members of our local party of the Native Sons.

As the editorial points out, Admission Day is one of the highlights of the calendar year because it was on September 5, 1862 that California became a member of the Union.

We of the Native Sons are dedicated to maintaining the highlights of the calendar year because it was on September 5, 1862 that California became a member of the Union.

The Native Sons and Californians by choice are concerned that there is still pending in the Legislature a bill which would repeal the Act by which Admission Day is a state holiday.

We would suggest that Californians write to their senator and assemblymen asking that Senate Bill No. 146 be defeated. Let us keep the heritage of our great state strong.

Respectfully, KATHALIN METAXAS Vallejo Park 77, NW-W

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE

Yesterday afternoon, May 20, 1967, at about 2 p.m. as I was out fishing on the river...

Two men in a small boat with outboard motor were coming upstream on the river when they were overtaken and passed by a large cabin cruiser going great fast.

The wake from the cabin cruiser either entered the motor boat or upset it. This either one could have happened but what made all of this people foolish there very interested was that the cabin cruiser people saw what happened and knew the two men from the motor boat were in the water but did not attempt to rescue them.

Another cabin cruiser saw what happened but it also passed the two men floating in the river without offering aid.

The demands made upon the Family Service Agency of the North Bay far exceed the agency's capacity to receive from the United States.

Even if these cabin cruisers were in a race, common decency should impel them to stop and render aid. I don't know if you have laws in California governing things like this but since what we face is desperately where they make the mistake, just because a person sees a five or six thousand dollar boat should not make him immune to fairness.

I would rather not appear in this unless it goes to court. I would gladly testify to what I saw.

Could one of our reporters check this out and see that the two men who were in the river are treated fairly. I don't think they were able to save their boat and motor but they were far from helpless. They were not in a position to be rescued. It is a pity that they were not rescued.

Thank you NAME WITHHELD

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Dear Lord, let us not make the Church more a symbol of respectability than of repentance. May we remember that our primary duty is to transmit God's call to raise man above the level of what he can hold in his hand to what he must feel in his soul. Help us to rebel against convention when it is out of contact with the will of God; to remember that what is most important for God's people is to show it in Jesus' name. Amen.

—Rev. Frank J. Miami, Ft. minister, Palmetto Presbyterian Church.

Scales In Balance

Swift Israeli victories against Egypt and its Arab allies may soon render academic, at least for a time, the question whether the United States is in danger of overextending itself by too many foreign commitments.

The country which plays the poleman's role obviously cannot be involved everywhere at once, any more than can a city police force. Chicago's crime rate soared last summer when the police focused heavily on Negro riots.

Yet a nation's performance in this role must always be positive, hopeful, upbeat, "on top of the job" in its flavor. It cannot wing its hands constantly over its burdens.

If its vital commitments cannot be neglected simply because they are less vital. On such a theory, the police would perhaps try to protect only banks and large industrial plants.

America's commitment to the preservation of Israel and its stake in a stabilized Middle East with its free world oil stores may indeed be a stronger factor than our commitment to keep South Vietnam free of Hanoi's domination.

But it is entirely arguable that to let the lesser commitment go in favor of the greater might be to assure a larger threat against the strategic Middle East at some future time.

The truth is that today the whole world is carved into strategic elements fitting into a puzzling pattern. Not even the most expert military men and diplomats can truly be sure which pieces of the puzzle can be safely ignored in the now global test of wills between freedom and the world's tyrannies—large and small. The lesser free lands, like the lesser tyrants, are in the end linked to the great adversaries—the United States on one side, the Soviet Union and Red China on the other.

This being so, almost no sizeable piece of earth can escape the orbit of big power controversy. Each side fears a tie working for the other and seeks to stem the smallest flow. Each side tries to generate favorable currents that may sweep wide.

The consequences is a paradox. Cowed by the menace of nuclear holocaust, the big powers shrink from open, full confrontation. Cuba in 1962 was an incredible near-exception. Meantime, they meet in clandestine, indirect encounters, jockeying for strategic advantage or avert trouble on a bigger scale elsewhere.

So the world that has known thousands of wars goes on having them. Most are small, as always. But today they are invested with a peril for mankind they never had before. For each is seen as the spark which may touch off the great firestorm.

The nuclear threat has brought caution, stem limits and a curious sophistication to American, Russian and even Red Chinese participation—through aid or direct fighting—in these small wars.

As they exploited human misery, petty tyrant ambitions, old and new hatreds, we have had to range our great power against them—never knowing which puzzle piece was destined to lead, would prove crucial to the safety of freedom.

As the free world's only effective guardian, we cannot withdraw from any part of the struggle. We cannot pull over-involvement. We can only try to satisfy in some reasonable measure, the many demands inescapably levied against our power and our resources.

As there is no such thing as being unable to afford a fight for survival, so it is unthinkable that America could refuse to use its immense power to keep freedom of choice as the great prevailing wind through much of the world.

Too Good To Be True

Chancellor DeMehery of the UC campus at Santa Cruz has almost read himself out of the groves of modern academe. He has taken a sensible, straightforward attitude toward student gripes about campus administration.

A number of his students recently complained that the Santa Cruz administrative activities were too strict and that students should be given the right to set their own rules, including "intermediation," which simply means men and girls together. This is the way things are at the Irvine campus, the complainers said.

Chancellor McHenry's withering reply was that students who prefer the Irvine regulations were free to transfer to Irvine. His additional observation that "We not only have an obligation to students, but obligations to their parents and to the taxpayers" seems almost too good to be true of a modern UC administrator.

I speak in the name of the black man by virtue of conscience on the part of the brethren, and as such, I believe in the power of the people. The Police-Community Relations Committee is in his regular office in the hands of the so-called Negro leadership has begged the forgiveness of their superiors, the white establishment, and again all terms of ghetto. Vallejo is returning to normal following the riot. Normal means preparing for an atrocious social crime of perpetration of the Negro community.

Negros will not be leveled by this process any more; this is what the riot was all about. It was a manifestation of their refusal to succumb to fragmenting half-bested systems of hand-outs and handouts.

"Weekend employment for organized Negro athletes" is not the answer as suggested by the police. It is a suggestion to give anything about access to employment opportunities for all Negroes is a continuation of a policy of racial oppression.

The creation of an environment which allows cooperation of all segments of the society in a two-way street. I strongly recommend to the white liberal leadership to be the racial imbalances (Councilman Lucher) offer Vice Mayor Brown.

I would hope Mr. Brown would speak to the people and get something going. If you feel motivated to speak out, let your people know. If you feel impeded, raise the Negro and strapping, selling out the race and taking crumbs from the rich when they disappear back into their holes.

WHO'S CURIOUS?

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE

I have written two letters to this page on previous occasions. The first was over the death of President John F. Kennedy; the second was in a serious vein on the subject of the belief of Chinese people everywhere that our year of A.D. 1966 was the Year of the Horse.

I will try to be in my humble and simple way, express my thoughts on a subject well known to all of us here in America and upon all of the face of our present world and very wonderful planet earth.

Very briefly it is this. For some reason things and people of their leaders, have gotten the affairs and things of this human race pretty lousy up. How to get this more back on an even level? I honestly do not know, but I suggest this course—some point out and make these lead. They do not do it. They do not do it. They do not do it.

Who we as nation, down through recorded history, have ever gained more through war—this combined was more time began than in a single, peaceful generation.

No war had it on so this morning of June 11. I don't know if I have hope and true, strong faith, it will not be too late.

So, as it is, I leave you in good wishes. Sincerely,

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

No doubt, you could care less about hearing from me, but I read what you write and you might as well read what I write.

The other day an acquaintance was talking to me and she told the children—means are bad. Well, I told her look at the mess the world is in today—the children do not make the rules or decisions—but they are the ones sent off to war to fight—whether they like it or not.

No distance is nothing any more making these decisions care not for the people closely involved—they should stop to think—IT SEEMS THEY MUST NOT BE TAKING THIS too far. It is too far anymore to be reached quickly. This is mass suicide. I realize people are tired of it all and have been jumping off the bridges of life one by one—but there are some who might still like to live. I'm not sure for what reason, myself. I don't feel like every day.

Then you have all the old folks in the homes—have all the old folks—hardly any more of them—our young folk just out to live some of them—our young folk just out to live some of them—our young folk just out to live some of them.

I think someone who can take care of some of these things—might do some other thinking. The way the world is today—these decisions—must be sent out to be killed.

Anything or nothing—before you can do anything or nothing—before you can do anything or nothing—before you can do anything or nothing.

Reagan hits 'Blackmail' in Outbacks

High Mental Health Level Kept, He Says

SACRAMENTO (AP)—Gov. Reagan told state mental health care won't be harmed by his economy drive, and charged opponents are trying to "blackmail" him into backing down.

"We are not cutting back on the care for our mentally ill and retarded," the governor declared. However, he added "It's necessary to say this because a high-powered, propaganda campaign would say otherwise. People are being frightened, particularly the families of patients in our mental hospitals."

Reagan has stressed the need for mental health care and estimated 2,800 jobs in the mental health field. California's state mental hospitals.

But the industry by some parts of the public and legislators have urged "cutbacks" prodded by the governor to make use of his occasional "profits" to fund other programs.

Reagan said he would not cut back on mental health care, but he would cut back on other programs.

IT'S RICH

THE MAY-JUNE ISSUE of The National Humane Review carries a full page article on "Pork" by the "Alphabet boys" who are credited with saving the life of a pig named Steve Bennett after he was abandoned by his owner. The article is a humorous and informative look at the lives of these "porkies" who are often found in the streets of Sacramento.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Almighty God, Who has laid upon all nations of mankind the commandment that we should live as brothers, look down in mercy and forgiveness upon our planet, Temper within us those passions and pride which drive us to hatred and fighting, and grant us peace in our time. O God, Oh this Memorial Day grant The comfort and grace to homes where the members of loved ones in battle receive the pain of sorrow and loss. Give us such strength as we ought to have to live courageously, through Christ, our Lord, Amen.

Solano County Fair Mark Of Accomplishment

The post-World War II years in California saw the great influx of new people pouring into our golden state.

From a less than dynamic state before World War II with a population nudging 5,000,000, California found itself in a population boom the likes of which have never been seen before or since.

Great areas of the state were turned from green produce fields to row upon row of dwellings to house this great influx.

New cities, especially in the southern part of the state, sprung up overnight.

All the while, the agricultural community was trying its best to produce sufficient goods in livestock and crops to feed this swelling population.

The farmers of the state added huge new acreages to what they had under development to feed the new Californians.

They succeeded in this Herculean task.

New industries, with a giant work force available, sprang up and a great new prosperity greeted the majestic mountains, fertile valleys and great coast of California.

In short, prosperity of unprecedented proportions pushed its way into every corner of California.

Solano County, caught up in the mainstream of this flowing wealth, decided to do something constructive which would insure the new and old citizens of Solano that the great wealth of the area would be put on display annually so that all would be able to determine for themselves the great riches of Solano County.

Leaders of the community quickly established a Solano County Fair Board in 1947 and in one year, a groundbreaking took place on the current site, which signaled the beginning of the successful Solano County Fair.

In September, 1950, the first fair was thrown open to the public.

Great crowds were drawn to the fair as well as it is today, but the fact that it was established and "doing business" at the Highway 40 location was an accomplishment unto itself.

The people of the area loved it. The great crops and livestock and the infant industrial development of the county were placed on display.

There were gaps of course. There were empty stalls. There was some reluctance by citizens to participate because the fair was a new, untried experience.

But in 1956 and in the subsequent years, most of the citizens responded. Now as the Fair launches its 18th edition, it can boast of a tremendous array of facilities which will house some of the finest exhibitions seen anywhere in the state.

Through the years, the Solano County project has won acclaim for being one of the best of the county-developed fairs.

Each year, Solano's Fair has at least one innovation.

Each year, more attended the sprawling fairgrounds with its multiplicity of entertainment, education and exhibitions.

It's a fair for everyone.

The fair has items of interest — from farm machinery to roller derby — which provide entertainment for the beginning of summer for the thousands of Solano County residents.

And more than that. Additional thousands from all over the North Bay and Bay Area pour down to Vallejo for the exciting 13 days which, incidentally, opens the fair season in Northern California.

The fair which opens today and extends through July 1 gives everyone an opportunity to view the progress of Solano County first-hand.

It's an event that is long-remembered by those who attend.

I is fun for adults and children.

The Solano County Fair has earned its place as one of the outstanding events of the year. Much credit must be given its Board of Directors and manager for again putting on a 13-day show which is worthy of Solano County.

Make sure you visit the fair this year.

How Beatniks Tick?

Science is, among other things, the making of order out of the seemingly chaotic phenomena of the universe.

After giving the subject much study, Dr. Jules Masserman of Northwestern University's psychiatry-neurology department has arrived at the conclusion that the term "beatnik" is the proper scientific label to cover all kinds of rebellious young people.

Writing in the AMA's Archives of General Psychiatry, he offers this handy guide to the beatnik world:

UPBEATNIKS. This group, even with their occasional beards, placards and protest marches are the best of the lot, he says. They are basically earnest, intelligent and well-intentioned and "no inconsiderable help in prodding us oldsters to review our smug hypocrisies and revise our medieval customs and conduct."

The upbeatniks will most likely be numbered among society's eventual leaders says the doctor.

DOWNBEATNIKS. This describes the more consistent nonconformist who articulately condemns and often courageously rebels against the inequalities and injustices of society, sometimes to the extent of outraging our sensibilities but only rarely violating essential social and legal codes.

"The prognosis here is often favorable. With further maturity and increasing wisdom, most of them become good citizens, competent parents and sometimes even staunch Republicans."

OFFBEATNIKS. These are the more seriously erratic, troubled and troublesome misfits who, despite their pretensions, contribute little that is truly constructive or original to our culture.

Hippies and trippies belong to the extreme wing of the offbeatniks. They are the wayoff-beatniks.

Teeny-boppers are young female beatniks. They can develop in any direction later — up, down or off.

Characteristics are definable to all classes of beatniks include strident speech and clothing patterns, abuse of drugs and defiant deviations in sexual behavior.

The physician and psychiatrist can only rarely help an offbeatnik and only occasionally a down beatnik, says Masserman.

Only the upbeatniks are "sufficiently self-critical to seek help from us or anyone else — whereas the others are often hysterically sure they are completely right and the world is all wrong."

There you have the beatniks. If you want them.

The Spectre Special

For anyone haunted with the desire to visit scary old England, this sounds like just the ticket.

The New York Corporation for Investigation of the First Organized Tour for Americans of houses and castles in Ireland and the British Isles featuring resident ghosts will take place this fall.

The fee of $1,500 for the 21-day tour covers all transportation, meals and accommodations and includes visits to such places as Rennyell House, County Galway, Ireland, where the ghost of poet William Butler Yeats is reported to roam, and Sawton Hall, near Cambridge, where plenty of natives will be available to swear they have seen Mary Queen of Scots wandering around.

Members of the tour will travel air freight, of course.

Opinions Of the People

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE:

We have been previously shocked at the unprecedentedly brutal aggressiveness of the Israelis upon the peace-loving people of the United Arab Republic...

Although the faceshown here is obvious, we ought to remember the old adage and generally reversed adjective of communism as outlined by Lenin: "As long as capitalism and socialism exist, we cannot live in peace in the world..."

These objectives are still being strictly observed. Behind the smiles and peace for peace, there are hidden motives...

Who is still sleeping under the influence of the old lie, "It can't happen here," is what it is all about. There is no better way of having peace than to have peace.

OPINIONS OF THE PEOPLE:

Anyone in the Greater Vallejo Area is privileged to send letters to "Opinions of the People," an open forum of public opinion. Opinions in this column, however, do not necessarily represent the policy of the publisher.

I'd like to direct this message to a special group of people whom I believe to be a little bit different from the rest of the crowd...
